

Dear Parents and Carers,

Today we enjoyed a wonderful NSPCC Number Day, where children took part in exciting maths games, challenges and problem-solving activities, all while raising money to support the NSPCC's vital work to keep children safe.

Pupils looked fantastic in their number-themed outfits and embraced the fun of exploring maths in creative ways. Events like Number Day are more than just enjoyable—research shows that strong early foundations in maths and secure learning in the first years of school have a profound and lasting impact on children's later educational success, particularly for those who may have had limited early learning experiences. Thank you to all families for your support in making the day both meaningful and memorable.

Mrs Griffiths and Mrs Finch took a group of children to Young Voices today, to sing with hundreds of other voices at Manchester Arena. We look forward to hearing all about their special day!

Have a great weekend.
